

The Tears of Sky

Why are you looking at me
When you are tussling with heat.
You waved me away as a creep
When you were freezing with breeze

I am always there
Above your hair
You can't see my face
But can feel my pace

I'm the rain
Who is in vain
Who has nothing to gain
But washes Your pain

I'm not cruel
But can be fuel
For the nature,
And the creature

Oh! World don't forget
What you get
If I'm not there
You are some where

You will know
And will say no!
This is not a history
But my mystery
